1. Where have you seen God's faithfulness in your life?
2. Joseph wanted to do the right thing, which was to get a divorce, and yet he wanted to do it without creating a scene or embarrassing Mary. How does his response to justice compare with the typical response of today? How does our faith in God also grant us the ability to do good when we have been harmed?
3. How does faith in God strengthen hope when things are not going well?
4. Once Joseph knew the truth, he still needed to face the criticisms of the reality. How does faith give courage to do the right thing, even when culture is telling you something different?
5. This is about all we know and hear of Joseph. What does this tell us about "quiet" faith? What lessons can we learn from him about how to live out your faith?
